Rural Municipal Elections

Bow Valley Returns Old Members

The election in Bow Valley Rural Municipality can be taken as a general state of confidence in the Council. The three members of last year's Council were re-elected by a safe majority. Mr. E. F. Wheeler, who stood in the constituency of Bow Valley, Mr. H. W. Webster, as representative for the Nakata district, also received a large majority. The heaviest polls were at Cardston and Cheadle.

These were the polls in which there was a decided change. The Council for next year will therefore be composed as follows: F. Skene, Hane, Lausen, E. F. Wheeler, C. F. Baker, Harry Grove, Steve Chamberlain.

Herewith are the results of the voting. The poll at T. H. Bucklefield is not included, as it had not arrived in time, but it will not affect the total result:

F. SKENE, Hanes LAUSEN,
HANS LAUSEN.

E. F. WHEELER,
F. BAKER,
G. C. MELKINDY,
R. L. MACKINTOSH

M.D. KEOMA RESULTS

M.D. GRASSWOLD

In M.D. Grasswold the successful candidates were:

J. M. JONES, Rosebud,
J. L. KIRK, Standard,
O. SMITH, Rockyford.

Unsuccessful:

CHUB ANDERSON, Standard,
112 Smith had a majority of 14 over
112 Anderson.

ODDFELLOWS' SOCIAL

—o—

As an opening event for their new hall, which was officially occupied on March 1st, the Strathmore Lodge, I.O.O.F. gave a social evening on Monday night, which was attended by Oddfellows, their families and friends.

The amusements of the evening were very versatile, and included a number of games which some of those present had not played for a number of years, and which furnished a great deal of amusement. A programme of musical numbers and recitations was also given, as well as a spelling bee, and the initiation of a number of the ladies into Oddfellowship. Coming under the secret work of the order, this latter event cannot be described.

Following supper, which was served Cafeteria style, the floor was cleared for dancing, music for which was furnished by some of the guests.

GETTING DOWN TO BUSINESS

—o—

Strathmore merchants at a meeting held last Thursday, decided to obligate themselves to do business on a fifty-day credit basis, and to form a Strathmore Business Men's Association.

During the last few months it appears that a number of people have been unable to pay their debts at various stores, and has put a strain on the merchant, and this has imposed a severe strain on the merchant's own credit. It is hoped that by the new system, which has already been successfully adopted in other towns, merchants will be able to secure the amount of outstanding accounts, and to give better service, and reduce prices accordingly. It is a fact that extended credit means that cash customers have got to pay more on account of the increased cost of doing business.

The business men interested are sending out circulars outlining the plan, and their monthly statements, which also appears in this issue dealing with the matter.

WHEAT BOARD GREAT BENEFIT TO FARMERS

—o—

OTTAWA, Feb. 22.—Fifteen per cent of the exportable surplus of the Canadian wheat crop was exported before December 31, 1919, the year in which the marketing of all Canadian wheat was placed in the hands of the Canadian Wheat Board.

According to the report of the chairman of the board, James Stewart, tabbed in the house yesterday afternoon by Rt. Hon. Sir George Foster minister of trade and commerce. In his report Stewart states that the average price realized by farmers at the shipping point in Canada was $2.50 per bushel, as against 25 cents per bushel less received by farmers in 1918, according to figures of the United States bureau of statistics.

The price of bread in Canada during the period when flour prices were also high, as set by the wheat board, was 1.5 cents per pound, or less than the average price paid by the consumers in the United States.

Much Unaccounted For

Stewart details fully in his report what the work of the board, which was created by order-in-council on July 31, 1919, from its inception until the close of its work. The balance sheet, from inception to December 31, 1920, showed total deposits in banks and elsewhere of approximately $105,000,000, against which there was $10,000,000 outstanding in participating certificates. There had been paid to date $9,000,000 in claims with the wheat board for losses, 6000 bushels and 6000 bushels covering lost, stolen and destroyed certificates, leaving participation certificates aggregating over $10,000 unaccounted for.

DALEMEAD DOINGS

NIGHTINGALE NOTES

The social club committee met the directors of the Community Hall on Saturday and have arranged to rent the hall for a year for basket ball, pool, and general social evenings, every Wednesday and Saturday.

An ideal instance of Community intercourse is given in the case of the little town of Dalemead, situated about 22 miles southwest of Strathmore. Though this town itself is small, there is a large number of families farming the surrounding land, and the services given by the local stores would do credit to much larger places.

Under the auspices of the U.F.A. and U.P.W.A. of Dalemead, a very enjoyable social evening was held in the hall on Friday night.

There was an attendance of about 150, and everyone thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

The programme consisted of a number of songs, recitations, etc., given entirely by local talent, and were of a first-class nature. The recitations struck a little note that spoke especially well with the audience. Mr. Martin Vanderveen presided.

Rev. C. A. Stokes, of Central Methodist Church, Calgary, delivered an interesting address on "The Value of The Church to a Community," and later on Rev. Mr. John W. Johnson, of Strathmore, gave a short talk on the function of a newspaper in a community. Rev. Mr. Cook, Carsland, also addressed the meeting.

The proceeds of the evening were to the expenses of the delegates to the U.F.A. Convention, and the sum of $56.50 was realized.

Following is the programme of the evening's entertainment:

CHORUS. Equal Rights for All
Recitation. Johanna Vanderveen
Song. Mrs. Wheeler.

Gestation. Gladys Conner
Duet. Miss Thomas & Miss Littlefield

Recitation. Julia Vanderveen
Instrumental Solo. Miss Thomas

Wages to Be Paid Farm Help

A short session of Dalemead U.F.A. was held following the entertainment when the question of the wages to be paid to farm help was discussed. A motion to adopt the suggested rate of $60 per month was defeated, and another was carried that a committee be appointed from the local unit to study the adoption of a sliding scale.

Considerable objection was voiced to the operation of the Government employment office at Strathmore, and one speaker stated that the offices closing at 5 p.m. each evening did not give them an opportunity to get in without losing their own time off the fields, and also that with the system of private bureaus the labor agent would go out and scour the streets for men, the fees paid offering him an inducement to do so. A motion was adopted putting the Union on record as wishing to go back to the old system of private agencies.

CHANCELLOR NOTES

A very interesting meeting was held in the Memorial Hall on February 2nd, by the U.P.W.A. of Chancellor. There was quite a lot of debating on the topic of Independent vs. Controlled Press. Mr. H. J. Day, of the U.P.W.A., said that the independent press was more in the interest of the community than a controlled one.

We have decided to launch into co-operation and buy our own blinds this year and buy our United Grain Growers.

At the conclusion of the meeting the Vice-President presented to the secretary, H. J. Day, a gold mounted shield, which he accepted, and a small sum of money from the local unit that independent press was more in the interest of the community than a controlled one.

Wags Discussion

A meeting of the U.F.A. was held in the King Edward Hotel on Saturday last, Mr. Risdon, president, in the chair and twenty one members present.

Several questions were brought forward of an interesting nature.

The first problem was the labor problem.

The Labor Barons are holding a convention in Regina on March 9th and have asked for representatives of the U.P.W.A. Therefore the Central Office have asked for a report of all legal.

This question caused a great deal of discussion and it was admitted by all present, that owing to the high cost of living, the cost of production is at present over one-half less than the previous year; it is impossible for the farmer to pay such high wages.

The following motion was forwarded and carried unanimously:

"That the minimum wage for labor be $40 per month."

A meeting had already been arranged by Mr. H. J. Day, of the U.P.W.A. of Calgary, to give an address on the Tariff Question on Saturday, March 5th but this has been altered to March 9th with the object of forming a committee to be composed of the U.P.W.A. and the Community Club of Strathmore. It is hoped that everyone will attend this meeting irrespective of their particular views on the Tariff Question.

This is to open the discussion and answer all questions put to him.

At an early date we hope to be interviewed with an address from Mr. Hart, of Rockford, on the Banking System. This should interest everybody. An announcement of this will be given later.

If for no other purpose than to bring the farmers and the Community Club to work hand in hand these meetings should be well attended.

The U.F.A. will meet again on Saturday, March 5th for the purpose of estimating the amount of formaldehyde and poison that will be required for the coming spring, for which tenders have been asked from the local dealers.

Owing to the very cold weather

February 18, the date of the Old Fashioned Dance given by the Namaka Unit, in the IO.O.F. hall, the proceeds were not large enough to supply Calgary music at present. However, the ladies are not discouraged and intend putting on several dances before the busy season arrives. The next of which will take place on Friday, March 10th, in the IO.O.F. hall. Every body welcome, good music, good food and a good time for everyone. The ladies are supplying the lunch.

We are pleased to see Mr. McInnis in the store again after a few days illness.

Mr. Young's mother spent a few days with him on her return to her home here from Vancouver.

Mrs. McInnis, Mrs. Gibson and daughter spent a few days in Calgary, Mr. Reuben Watts stayed a few days with his brother Carmen on his way to vacation after a month at the coast.

A well known couple attended the centennial dance at Gleichen, a good time was enjoyed.

We are pleased to know that Miss Violet Watts passed with honors in the recent exams and is now head of her class in the High River High School.

ARDENNE NOTES

The general meeting of the Ardenne Local held in the schoolhouse on February 1st, was a poor affair and led in consequence the majority of the members being conspicuous by their absence, a good deal of the business on the agenda was laid over, particularly the regular business, and the officers for the ensuing year were elected.

An offer was received from W. A. Hart, of Rockford to address the local on the banking question and he was given the choice of several dates and the date chosen was April 1st.

The next meeting of the local will be held in the schoolhouse on Saturday, March 5th, when it is to be hoped there will be a more numerous attendance.

The new church bell arrived from the States recently but very unfortunately it has a crack in it which will make it necessary for us to return it to the manufacturers because this was due to a defect in workmanship.

This was quite a disappointment to us but no doubt we will have a new bell as soon as time permits.

A surprise party for Mr. Day was held yesterday at Webb's hall. Mr. Day was the first ordinand to be ordained in Standard and he will be missed by all his customers. Games were first played and then lunch was served after which they danced a little before departing.

BENEFITS OF MUNICIPAL HOSPITAL

The erection of a Municipal Hospital has been decided upon by the ratepayers of the district surrounding Calgary this summer. With this in view the following article dealing with the results of the operation of Bassano Municipal Hospital, as published in a recent issue of the Bassano Mail, will be of great interest:

The Bassano Municipal Hospital has proven a great boon to sick and stricken humans throughout a wide-spread area the size of which has been in operation. Citizens of the district hardly realize the relief from distress that has been occasioned by the hospital in this land of sparse settlement and poor, sometimes primitive medical care, and education to the sick is only too limited and untold suffering and perhaps even death, has at times been due to this cause. But however small this little municipal hospital, managed by a self-sacrificing nurse, has done a wonderful lot to relieve these conditions. Local doctors are aided in their efforts to care for the sick who have been spending the winter, yesterday, their endeavors, and patients are given a better chance of recovery, through being surrounded by proper conditions and given the care and treatment so necessary to recovery.

OUR NEW WARD.
Last year the Bassano hospital ministered to three hundred and sixty-five patients. Of that number but 1 died, which gives the hospital a very enviable record. It might be said that the majority of the fatalities were babies a few hours or a day or so old. The limit of the hospital's accommodation is 18 patients and at times the place has been crowded. It can easily be seen from these figures that the hospital fills a great need and that this will become more evident as time goes on.

Mrs. J. G. McKevey, of Winnipeg, Manitoba, arrived here on a visit in her cousin Mrs. W. G. Way, two weeks ago, and had the misfortune to be taken seriously ill the same evening after her arrival. She continued to deteriorate which has been followed by several meningitis and other complications, and although she has been very ill for a week she has put up a brave fight for life, and hopes are entertained for her ultimate recovery.

Mrs. McKevey is a sister of Mr. J. Stead, the famous Canadian novelist who arrived here from Montreal on receiving word of Mrs. McKevey's illness. Mr. Stead, who was down twice last week, H. has now gone to Winnipeg.

The gymnasium night for boys and girls has been altered Tuesday as it has been found more convenient for parents to allow their children to go out than indoors.

Mr. C. M. Davis, who is taking over the U.C.L. agency here, suffered a sun stroke last Monday in the absence of his wife, which occurred on their farm near Munson. Mr. Davis has made arrangements to sell his farm effects etc. and take his business here in the first of March, but as said sanity that has beset him will delay his commencing business here for a week or so. The deepest sympathy is felt with Mr. Davis and his family in their bereavement.

Mrs. Hopkins, who has been staying with her daughter, Mrs. W. C. Brown, for some months past, leaves today for her home in Montana.

Owing to the cold weather, last week's skating party had to be called off. It looks as if skating and hockey were "naps" for the season, and baseball, football, tennis, etc., are more in line with the present kind of weather.

Paying-Up Time

While many subscriptions expire at different months of the year, it is at this time that we expect a general settling up of subscription accounts—those numerous things that do not mean much to the individual but which total to a great deal when all combined, and which total of dollars is most necessary under present conditions to the newspaper man to meet the ever mounting cost of supplies and productions.

Prices in the newspaper line are still going up. Before the war a ton of news print paper could be bought for $35. Until recently the price was fairly stable at $250 a ton, but within the last month another raise of $30 per ton—a raise alone almost equal to the original cost of a whole ton—has taken place. If ever the newspapers of Canada needed immediate settlement of accounts, it is now.

We have always been able to count on our subscribers doing their part and we feel that this year they will not fail us in coming in at once with their renewals.

Rebellion Days, 1884-85

By O-G-E-MAS (Little Clerk).

(Copyrighted)

The winter of 1884-5 was my first; twice since I came to the west they had rolled the H. B. Co. post at Nut Lake. Captain Maxim, the chief, was known especially from the French traders, one of whom, Maxim—(afterwards sentenced to seven years in penitentiary)—was extremely surly whenever he met us, and I soon found that he was probably acting rebellious in every camp. Well, I had not been trained in the Hudson's Bay Company at that point.

Some two miles to the south of my location was an H. B. C. wintering post, also a few French traders. One of them was the well-known Xavier Batoche from whom that settlement is named. Being a first-genuine white settler topper, here, some of the Indians were friendly opposed to that post, and on those occasions armed parties of them would sweep off the premises.

Well, I remember my first interview with the Kingbird. He was looking for his son, who had run off to the east fork of the creek. It was a cold raw evening in December. I was homeward bound and had just run down the bank of the creek to look for a safe trap, and my trap was a big success, but when I knocked him on the head and put him in my hunting bag which by the way was nearly full and heavy, I released my trap and was climbing up the bank, when I heard a shot. It was Mr. Mith with an inch of my ear and snarling like a wild dog. I slipped a lynx snare over his head, thinking it would snare him well, but when I unloosed him and noted the touch of mounted Indians who were watching my proceedings with great interest.

Boldness is always the best policy with savages, and walking to the front of the Kingbird himself, I took my hand with a firm grip, "Wa-chah, Wa-chah." He took no notice, but in an angry voice, and speaking the broadest of Santeaux, said, "What have you in that trap?" I remained silent, but did not mind the question. "What have you in that trap?" In reply I unpeeled the skin. My hands trembled and the place apparently deserted. While we were looking over the scene, the door of the H. B. C. shack was partly opened, and out stuck an old Indian with a long pipe and a long spear. My comrade with dilated nostrils gave one glance at him, gathered up his rifle and whipping his pony went off east at a mad gallop. The head was cut off, and the body was left to follow him. I was alone again and went in. One Indian and his squaw were the only occupants, with a bundle of bedding. His powder horn was hanging close to me and I gave it a shake and noted the name of the gun, "Ammi." A kettle hanging in the chimney, I saw it only contained water. Every nothing was there, the danger of a sudden skid when your sled was a still, the distance to the nearest town, the distance to the nearest road, when your car has started to skid there is no positive way to stop it, but the sideways motion of your sled can be checked, and in many cases stopped, by judicious steering and careful use of your brakes.

When your car starts to skid you should turn the front wheels in the direction of the sled rather than in the opposite direction. Do not jump out of your sled, but get out and walk your rear wheels and cause them to slide more freely toward the side of the road. When your sled should be applied gently and intermittently with enough force on the side of the sled to bring it to a standstill. Later on when you are driving in the little power to the rear you wheels can brake them more effectively, and you avoid the danger of locking them.

Most drivers become frightened at the sight of a sled, and will do very things they shouldn't do. They apply both brakes, throw out the sled and try to right the direction of the car by steering in the opposite direction of the sled. A driver, however, says, "I don't care if my car is disabled, I little power to the rear you wheels can brake them more effectively, and you avoid the danger of locking them."

In the meantime I had made some friends amongst the Indians, especially with one named (The) Son of Wind, who had his home. We had been able to show some kindness to a number of his sons who was very ill from consumption. The old man and I found we were connected in the same way, as Ks-ay-she-nah, the Pus-ah-wah, the Kingbird of the Woods, as well as mine. Then Chas-ka-pa-sah had a few tests and were friendly. Some Nut-Labates came in to trade during the winter, and I found myself as a sort a sorry disagreeable bunch with a bad reputation as

Admiral Advocates Smaller Battleships

Admiral Sims Justifies His Recent Address on the Irish Question.

The importance of smaller naval craft as compared with capital ships was emphasized in an address by Admiral William Sims at Springfield, Mass., recently.

Admiral Sims declared that if Germany had had as many submarines at the beginning of the war as she built during the war, "we would now be winning Germany in this war."

The admiral urged the need for intelligent interest in the military forces by civilians and clung his address with the statement: "We have lived without the presence of our enemies, but we do not know what is going to take place in the immediate future, but we may as well have our hands on our guns."

In a statement following his talk, Admiral Sims said: "The small warships on the Irish question are based on historic facts, and that he would repeat them when the nation must combine to prevent war."—The London Times.

advance of nearly two million and a half dollars over the value of the 1919 product, showing that all through

When the Motor Skids

Sideword Man Can Be Checked by Proper Steering.

Every motorist should be danger of a sudden skid when your sled goes off the road.

When your car has started to skid it is hard to tell there is no positive way to stop it, but the sideways motion of your sled can be checked, and in many cases stopped, by judicious steering and careful use of your brakes.

When your car starts to skid you should turn the front wheels in the direction of the sled rather than in the opposite direction.

The production of creamy butter, however, was increased from 111,82,800 pounds to 121,00,000 pounds last year, a gain of more than a million pounds. There was a slight increase in the production of eggs, 354,500 pounds being manufactured in 1920, as compared with 320,500 the previous year.

The growth of the dairy industry in Alberta during the last 10 years is remarkable. The total value of all milk products amounted to $7,425,751, three-quarter of the value of the 1920 production. The output of creamy butter has steadily grown from 301,751 in 1910 to 341,000 in four times that quantity in 1920.

During the past decade the staff experts of the Commission of Canada have been engaged in the constant study of the extent and character of Canada's resources and of the problems associated with their more efficient utilization. Results of the commission's work have led to the conclusion that, in regard to certain of Canada's most valuable resources, the interests of true conservation demand an immediate extension rather than a restriction of development.

A prominent feature of the commission's work to promote such development by giving the widest possible publicity to the data it has obtained relating to the extent, situation, and value of potential resources.

The commission has been directed resources of the country.

It is the desire of the commission that the results of its work be made available to the

Activity At Camp Borden

Military Weather Aids Training of Officers for Air Force.

Training in the weather at Camp Borden, where some 500 officers are now taking courses and flying is going on every day. The month weather has been most helpful in the winter, and the field of fire has been started, and machines have been mounted on either skis or wheels according to the amount of snow covering the ground. There has not been sufficient or bad weather at any time to interfere with the regular training courses.

A New World

National Police Great Countries Lamentably Deficient in Christian Spirit.

Viscount Grey of Fallodon, addressing a Student Christian Movement conference at Glasgow recently on the need for morality of police forces, said: "I am afraid that the existing conditions above would not make a better world. The national policies of the great countries were still lamentably deficient in Christian spirit." Viscount Grey of Fallodon, a British peer, is a member of the Royal Household, and is the author of "The War," a book published in 1919.
